NICHE Nurses Improving Care for Health System Elders

Provides an intensive curriculum and leadership training based on New York University's NICHE training program. Recruitment is currently closed for this project. Project ends: 06/30/2018

What you get: The NICHE program deepens geriatric knowledge and caregiving skills of the non-clinical staff, certified nurse assistants (CNAs), Certified Medication Aides (CMAs), Licensed Practical Nurses (LPNs) and Registered Nurses (RNs) working in LTC through addressing "basic gerontological tenets such as access and quality of care, especially for vulnerable populations." (Boltz, et. al. 2012).

Each participating facility gets onsite support to adopt the online NICHE program. Online modules are delivered to staff at all levels. RNs and LPNs are the first cohort followed by CNA/ CMA and non-clinical staff. It takes about 2 hours each week over the course of 12-16 weeks to successfully complete the training and receive certification. BONUS: onsite support includes clinical rounding to help staff apply their learning at the bedside.

What it costs: There are no fees to participate, but a one year commitment is required.

Quality Measures*: Hospital re-admissions, Falls, Pressure Ulcers, Urinary Tract Infections, Pulmonary and Skin Infections, Pain, and more

Step-Up for Dementia Care

This hands-on training builds empathy and improves skills for dementia care. Delivered at your facility for multiple shifts, this educational activity will help even the best facility improve care giving skills among its staff. Recruitment is open to 120 nursing homes. Project ends: 06/30/2019

What you get:

The dementia-specific training sessions will be offered multiple times throughout the day at your facility, so that staff from all shifts can attend. Walking through Dementia helps staff to build daily care skills and knowledge, increases sensitivity and empathy towards residents living with dementia, increases understanding of the disease state, and decreases caregiver stress, depression and frustration.

Bathing without Battles education program focuses on creating a better bathing experience for residents and making the bathing experience more enjoyable for both caregivers and residents in nursing homes. The curriculum is a non-pharmacological method known to reduce agitation and aggressive behaviors.

“Train-the-Trainer” sessions for key staff ensure that facility staff can share and sustain the new knowledge as new employees are hired.

What it costs: There are no fees to participate. A commitment to host the training and participate in follow-up activities will be required. Educators provide a total of three dynamic educational activities on three different days over 2-3 weeks.

Quality Measures*: Dementia-related deficiency citations, antipsychotic medication, deficiencies associate with abuse and neglect
